

ALAN SEAMANS

Alan Seamans is the Executive Director of the CNY PGA. Seamans joined the section in 2007 as Tournament Director before becoming its Executive Director in 2010.

Seamans, a native of Cortland, supervises a staff of 8 full- and part-time section employees and works in conjunction with the section's Board of Directors. His administrative skills include working with community partners to promote the game of golf and elevate the stature of PGA Professionals.

Seamans, who became a PGA Professional in 2014, oversees the business operations of the section and the section's foundation. Seamans, a 2003 graduate of LeMoyne College, also helped direct the section home-site acquisition and renovation of the CNY PGA headquarters in Jamesville.

Seamans' vision and leadership has been integral to the development of CNY PGA programming. He is dedicated to the growth of the sport and is active in facilitating tournaments and player development initiatives on both the local and national levels. He was awarded the 2018 CNY PGA Horton Smith Award for outstanding and continuing contributions to professional education.

Seamans and his wife, Caitlin, reside in Syracuse with their three children.
